

FDA ISSUES HEALTH HAZARD ALERT FOR PET CHEWS DUE TO CONTAMINATION WITH SALMONELLA

The FDA warned consumers not to use American Bullie A.B. Bull Pizzle Puppy Chews and Dog Chews manufactured and distributed by T.W. Enterprises, Ferndale, WA because they have the potential to be contaminated with Salmonella, which can cause serious infections in dogs and cats, and, if there is cross contamination, in people, especially children, the aged, and people with compromised immune symptoms.

Pets with Salmonella infections may be lethargic and have diarrhea or bloody diarrhea, fever and vomiting. Some pets will have decreased appetite, fever and abdominal pain. Well animals can be carriers and infect other animals and humans. If your pet has consumed the recalled product and has these symptoms, please contact your veterinarian.

Dispose the infected products in a safe manner such as a securely covered trash receptacle.

It is impossible to differentiate the chews manufactured by T.W. Enterprises by lot or batch. Packages are not coded with batch or lot numbers, therefore discard all sizes of puppy and dog chews.
